and vegetables production and price beheviour etc. Hence there is no standard for determining the fixed per capita consumption of foodgrains.

The stocks with the Public agencies are built up by the Government under price support operation i.e. procurement of wheat and paddy at Minimum Support Price and levy rice from the traders/millers. The procurement of foodgrains (rice & wheat) per year on an average range from 15—20% of the production. The public stocks varies from year to year on various reasons such as production, procurement, off-take, for PDS/RPDS and local availability and open market prices etc.

The Central Issue Price at which the Government supplies the foodgrains from the Public Stocks for PDS/RPDS etc. are uniform throughout the country and are less than the open market prices. The off-take of wheat under PDS/RPDS declined during 1993-94 due to increases in production of foodgrains from 179.48 milion MTs in the crop year 1992-93 (July—June) to 182.12 million MTs in 1993-94 as against 168.38 million MTs produced in 1991-92. The increase in the production from 1992-93 onwards had stabilised the local availability.
